BROOKLANDS - THE HOME OF CONCORDE

THE CONCORDE CHAMPAGNE EXPERIENCE

Call us, book your ticket, enjoy a pre-flight champagne reception and check-in, board Concorde, take your seat and experience a 'flight'.
Visit the flight deck and chat with the Captain.
All as it was!

Concorde G-BBDG has been superbly restored and resides at Brooklands Museum
Over thirty per cent of every Concorde, British and French, was built here, more than at any other location, so it can truly be said that Brooklands is the Home of Concorde.

Sadly, this beautiful lady no longer flies, but we can now offer you the next best thing in our exclusive programme of scheduled Concorde Champagne Experience 'flights'.
Lunch or Dinner will be taken with Mike Bannister, British Airways' Chief Concorde Pilot and, after your meal, Captain Bannister will give a fascinating Concorde presentation.

Your day with Concorde will also include a visit to the Concorde Simulator
- the only one in the world open to the public!

If you flew Concorde in the past, we should be delighted to welcome you on board again.
If you never had the opportunity, now is the time to take your seat!

On your arrival at Brooklands Museum you will be invited to a champagne reception with the Concorde Captain in the art deco Members' Bar in the Edwardian Clubhouse.

Our Concorde host will then escort you to the check-in desk in the Concorde Terminal building to collect your boarding card before you board the aircraft.

The rear cabin is now a fascinating exhibition with four themes - the origins of Concorde; building and testing; Concorde in service; and tragedy, recovery and retirement. There are archive film clips, images, documents and artefacts from Concorde's history, and a film detailing the life of G-BBDG from construction to her restoration and opening to the public at Brooklands.

Walking forward you will see a display of passenger seating and memorabilia through the Concorde's commercial service from 1976 to 2003.

Moving in to the forward cabin, it will be time for your 'flight'! Taking your place in one of the famous grey leather Concorde seats, you will be served a glass of champagne before 'take-off'.

On 'landing' you will be invited by Captain Bannister to the flight deck to sit in the pilot's seat next to him - time for a very special and memorable photograph!

On disembarkation, you will be able to see the Concorde Simulator on which all British Airways' pilots and flight engineers were trained.

Our Concorde Captain's Lunch will then take place in the Bluebird Room of the Clubhouse and Captain Bannister will give a Concorde talk and video presentation.

Finally, a Brooklands Concorde Certificate, signed by Captain Bannister, will be your permanent reminder of a very special experience with this iconic aircraft.

CAPTAIN MIKE BANNISTER

Mike Bannister joined BOAC (British Airways' predecessor) in 1969 as a pilot and flight navigator on the Vickers VC10 fleet. He became the youngest pilot on the Concorde fleet in 1977 and was appointed as a Concorde pilot instructor in 1986.

He was promoted to the role of Chief Concorde Pilot in 1995 and, until the aircraft's retirement flew regularly as Captain on all of the aircraft's routes worldwide, both scheduled and chartered.

From July 2000 Mike was very actively involved in the corporate and industry efforts to achieve Concorde's safe return to service in November 2001. He liaised closely with manufacturers, Government and aviation authorities as well as representing British Airways in a range of arenas. Mike was seconded to the Air Accident Investigation Branch as Lead Technical Delegate during the Concorde Accident Investigation.

Following this, Mike delivered significant Concorde presentations at Heathrow and in New York for the top 50 Concorde customers.

He was at the controls of British Airways' Supersonic Flagship when she returned to service on November 7th 2001 and for the final scheduled flight from New York to London on October 24th 2003.

He flew Concorde to New York on her 21st birthday on January 21, 1997, and commanded Prime Minister Tony Blair's State Visit to Denver for the G7 Summit meeting later that year. He has worked with NASA and Boeing on the next generation supersonic aircraft.

'Strolling down the Mall' - The Golden Jubilee

A particular highlight of Mike's Concorde career was commanding British Airways' Concorde G-BOAD as, to the cheers of more than a million spectators, she and the RAF's Red Arrows spearheaded the flypast at 1500 feet above The Mall and Buckingham Palace to mark Her Majesty The Queen's Golden Jubilee Celebrations on June 4th 2002.

Mike is a trustee of Brooklands Museum and a champion of the dreams, visions and pride that made Concorde such an icon of the 20th and 21st centuries.

BROOKLANDS MUSEUM

Brooklands commands a unique place in the history of British motorsport and aviation and, although your visit may be primarily for Concorde, the price of your Concorde Champagne Experience includes admission to all areas of the Museum. We open at 1000. Closing times are 1600 in winter and 1700 in summer. Details of all the Museum has to offer are given on the website:

www.brooklandsmuseum.co.uk

CONCORDE AS A UNIQUE GIFT

Our Concorde Champagne Experiences and the 'At the Controls of Concorde' Simulator flying experiences make perfect gifts.

Should you wish to book one of these for a relative or friend and would like to give them a presentation letter on their special occasion, we should be pleased to supply this.

CORPORATE OR PRIVATE CHARTER OF CONCORDE G-BBDG AND THE CONCORDE SIMULATOR

Concorde G-BBDG can be chartered for corporate and private functions, as can the Concorde Simulator and even the entire Concorde Terminal area.

A wide range of options is available and these can include catering and hire of the Museum's various functions rooms in the Clubhouse, and Concorde gifts - either from our collection or exclusively commissioned.

To discuss your requirements please call our Concorde Business Manager on the number below.
